

Student Project - S09

Title Variable Speed Drive for Induction Motors

Abstract Induction motors are traditionally used for propelling industrial machines and domestic products. By adding a variable speed drive, the induction motor can be upgraded to drive robots and high precision positioning machines. This DSP based variable speed drive utilizes D-Q Control and high frequency PWM output. It can drive induction motors up to 1KW.

